NANOMEDICINE Partnering Day

Presentation

FP7 calls for proposals under the HEALTH, NMP and ICT Work programmes will be published next July 2010, and a significant number of topics on the application of nanotechnologies to health and life sciences will be opened.

Nanomed-UII, the International Innovation Unit of the Spanish Platform on Nanomedicine, organizes this Nanomedicine Partnering Day that is addressed to delegates coming from academia, industry -more in particular SMEs- and hospitals willing to transform their ideas into successful proposals and providing an excellent opportunity to build or join a consortium in the diverse areas of nanomedicine and nanobiotechnology (diagnostics, regenerative medicine, drug delivery, new tools).

If you have a brilliant idea and you would like to develop this into an FP7 project, whether you might be or not the coordinator, please send us your abstract to join the Flash Presentation Sessions. Discussion and networking with possible future partners from diverse sectors will follow at the poster display area.
