NANOMEDICINE Partnering Day

Nanomedicine Partnering Day: building FP7 consortia in nanomedicine

Nanomed-UII, the Spanish Nanomedicine Platform Internationalization and Innovation Unit, is organizing “Nanomedicine Partnering Day” on Wednesday 5th May 2010.

The Partnering Day is supported by the CDTI (Centro para el Desarrollo Tecnológico Industrial, belonging to the Spanish Ministry of Science and Innovation) and is organized in collaboration with other relevant research centres, policy makers and business associations at Catalan and Spanish-level, such as ACCIÓ, CIBER-BBN, Asebio y Fenin. The event will take place at the Hospital de la Santa Creu i Sant Pau, in Barcelona.

With the 2011 FP7 Working programmes in mind, the event is designed as a meeting point for all the stakeholders currently working in nanobio/nanomedicine and related areas (academic researchers, clinicians, representatives from technological centres and companies) who are interested in transforming their ideas into collaborative European-scale projects.

Approximately 25 proposals will be presented to the more than 120 registered participants, as starting point for the networking sessions, which will provide an excellent opportunity to discuss future projects to be backed up by competitive consortia.

NanoMed Spain, the Spanish Nanomedicine Platform, is coordinated and managed by (IBEC). Josep Samitier, IBEC Associate Director, is the Platform scientific director.
